Photograph coverage of the entire event, including the finish line, in addition to the candids both before and after the event: $300.00

- All images will be made available copyright-free to the appropriate organization, party, individual, or whomever is sponsoring the running or the triathlon event.
- There will be the usual advance communication and specific images that the event organizers will undoubtedly want to have captured and we'll be at their call during the five or so hours that we will be there.
- All of the images will be downloaded onto our computer for the purposes of purchasing by the individuals, whether it be images at the finish line or candids of the kids in baby carriers. There is a variety of packages that people have put together with their candid photos taken at the event.
- If need be, we can also make prints for the organization at an additional cost. We can also provide a DVD of all the copyright-free images for use during future events within the organization, municipality, etc.
- The key element will be the candidness of the photos and secondly, the time normally invested with the downloading of the images and any Photoshop work we may decide to do. This is estimated between 7-9 hours of total time, which obviously reflects more realistically on the fee structure for 2014.
- Our turn-around time will be within two weeks of the event and I need to say that unless there are some special requirements from an event stager, this will have to be held intact fairly stringently.
